

§ 4b.385 Flammable fluid fire protection. In areas of the airplane where flammable fluids or vapors might be liberated by leakage or failure in fluid systems, design precautions shall be made to safeguard against the ignition of such fluids or vapors due to the operation of other equipment, or to control any fire resulting from such ignition.